Bus Terminals Must Serve All, Court Rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today decided restaurant in interstate bus terminals must serve Negroes making journeys across state lines.

Justice Black delivered the 7-2 decision. Justice Whitaker wrote a dissenting opinion in which Justice Clark joined.

The tribunal ruled on an appeal by Bruce Boynton, a Negro who was fined $10 for refusing to leave a "white" restaurant in the Trailways Bus Terminal in Richmond, Va.

Boynton, then a law student at Howard University in Washington, D.C., was enroute to his home in Selma, Ala. for the 1958 Christmas holiday.

Boynton was fined in Police Court under a Virginia law making it a misdemeanor to refuse to leave premises on demand of persons in charge. The law has a maximum penalty of $100 and 30 days in jail.

Boynton's bus stopped at the terminal for a 40-minute layover during the late evening.

The terminal, as do many depots and stations in the South, had a restaurant for "colored" and one for "white."

Boynton said the restaurant for Negroes was crowded, so he entered the "white" restaurant. A waitress told him she had orders not to serve Negroes there and asked him to use the other restaurant.

Boynton refused to leave on demand of an assistant manager, who then called police.

Power Firm Contributes to 4-H Work

This makes the fourteenth consecutive year, Southwestern Electric Power Company has presented a $50 contribution to the Hempstead County 4-H Club Council.

Mr. Dean Atkins, Assistant Sales Manager, made the presentation to Janet Roberts, President of the council, on November 30, 1960.

Southwestern is pleased to make this annual contribution to each of the 4-H Club Councils in each county and parish in which the company operates, leaving to the discretion of the Councils how the money will be used.

"We feel honored and proud to be associated with the 4-H Clubs, their leaders, and the people of the Extension Service," said A. H. Gray, Jr., Manager of the Company's Rural Development Department. "Their work has always been outstanding and the energy with which they attack problems is indeed inspiring. We sincerely hope that we shall always be able to continue making this and other investments in our rural and urban youth. We know that the activity of this group is making a great contribution to the continued growth, progress, and freedom of America."

Child Loses Life in Old Refrigerator

By HAL MCCLURE

NEW YORK (AP) — A little boy's curiosity, a flashlight, a vacant apartment.

This was the anatomy of a neighborhood tragedy in the Bronx Sunday night.

Not long ago Robert Ingraham, 8, the son of a building superintendent, received a handsome gift from a family moving from the neighborhood.

The present—a shiny flashlight—became a near-obsession with the boy. For hours, as boys will, he explored the dark places in the neighborhood—murky basements, gloomy stairwells, store-rooms and odd corners.

Friends accused him of taking the light to bed with him. During most of his waking hours he kept the flashlight fastened to a string tied around his waist.

For three days Robert hit every unit nook and cranny in the area. When Robert didn't come home Sunday night, his frantic father, John Ingraham, called police and a widespread search began.

For nearly four hours searchers combed the neighborhood, talked to the lad's friends and looked in most places a 60-pound could hide.

It wasn't until detective Christopher Kelly learned of the boy's fascination with the flashlight that police came up with a clue.

Kelly went to the basement apartment recently vacated by the neighbors who had given Robert the flashlight and began a thorough search.

His fears were realized when he finally opened the door of a refrigerator.

Robert's slight body was curled up inside.

The boy still grasped his precious flashlight. But the battery had burned out.

The light had died with him.

Integration in South Up by 14,000

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The number of Negroes attending public schools with white children in southern and border states has increased more than 14,000 this year over last, the Southern Education Reporting Service said today.

The 195,625 Negroes attending desegregated classes represent 6.3 per cent of the Negroes enrolled in the 17 states and Washington, D.C., SERS said.

The figure was contained in the service's semi-annual statistical summary of developments arising from the U.S. Supreme Court's 1954 decision on school segregation.

SERS said the proportion of Negroes attending bi-racial classes in the region this year was about the same as in the 1959-60 school year. Total Negro enrollment was reported at 3,020,727 and white, 10,165,246.

Most of the desegregated Negroes 194,049, live in Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland, Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas, West Virginia and Washington, D.C., SERS said. The remainder, 776, reside in Arkansas, Florida, Louisiana, North Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia.

With the start of desegregation in New Orleans, SERS said, Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi and South Carolina remained the only states with complete segregation extending from elementary grades through college. Thirty-six per cent of the South's Negroes live in the four states, the service stated.

SERS said that although the overall number of school districts decreased through consolidation in the 17 states, the number of desegregated districts increased from 749 last year to 777.

Bus Wreck at Brinkley Hurts 15

BRINKLEY, Ark. (AP) — A Trailways Bus tumbled down a 12-foot embankment and crashed upside-down into a tree near here today, injuring at least 15 persons.

State Trooper Joe Cosner said no one was killed. Some of the passengers apparently were injured seriously.

Among the injured was state Rep. William L. Ward of Marianna, who's in his 70s.

The bus was on route from Memphis to Little Rock.

The crash occurred on U. S. Highway 70, about eight miles west of here.

A motorist told police the bus passed his car, then slid off the right side of the highway and tumbled down the embankment.

The bus bounced once of its top and smashed into the tree. The tree struck the vehicle just behind the driver's seat.

The driver, C. B. Davis of Benton, Ark., and the injured passengers were taken to Murphy Hospital here.

Davis and some of the passengers underwent emergency surgery.

Five ambulances took the injured to the hospital.

John P. Boyd, 90, of Emmet, Dies Saturday

John P. Boyd, aged 90, a pioneer resident of Emmet, died Saturday in a Hope hospital.

He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Dollie Chism and Miss Lucie Boyd of Emmet; two brothers, James Marvin Boyd and Travis P. Boyd of Emmet.

Services were held Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at Emmet Methodist Church by the Rev. D. L. McCauley, the Rev. A. C. Rogers and the Rev. Arthur Terry. Burial by Herndon-Cornelius was in Snell Cemetery of Emmet.

Castro and Churr Are at Odds

HAVANA (AP) — Relations between the Roman Catholic Church and Prime Minister Fidel Castro today were at the most critical level yet after the church angrily denied Castro's charge that priests took bribes to preach against his revolution.

Adding to the increased tension among Catholics were persistent but unconfirmed reports that Archbishop Enrique Perez Serantes of Santiago was detained briefly by authorities in Camaguey Saturday and told to leave Cuba.

The 77-year-old archbishop was returning from a meeting of Catholic prelates in Havana. The reports said he replied firmly that he would stay in Cuba and take the consequences.

Archbishop Perez Serantes, who once saved Castro from a Batista firing squad but now is his most outspoken critic in Cuba, said by telephone from Santiago: "I am an old man and suffer from loss of memory. I do not recall any such thing happening to me."

Camaguey military officials said they had not detained the archbishop.

In an open letter to Castro read Sunday in Santiago's cathedral, nine Catholic bishops, including Manuel Cardinal Arteaga, asserted that the government's revolutionary indoctrination program preaches communism.

The letter also denied Castro's charge that "henchmen in gas socks" accepted bribes from sugar industry interests to preach against the revolution.

Compensation Case Reversed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today sent back to the state Board of Review for further proceedings a seven-year-old case involving an unemployment contribution assessment of $100 against a Washington County employer.

The assessment was filed in Washington Chancery Court in October 1953, against Ralph C. Barnhart, who now is dean of the University of Arkansas Law School owed $109 in unemployment contributions payments for men whom he employed to build a house.

Barnhart said he didn't owe the money because the workmen were independent contractors and not subject to unemployment compensation.

At various times the case has been before the chancery court, the labor commissioner, the state Board of Review, and Pulaski Circuit Court. All upheld the original finding.

The Supreme Court opinion, written by Justice Jim Johnson, said there was nothing in the record to show whether Barnhart's liability for taxes was made an issue in any of the proceedings.

However, police patrols at the school were enlarged amid reports that white pupils would break the McDonough boycott today.

The Louisiana Legislature gave quick approval Sunday to a bill providing state aid for pupils who prefer to attend private schools. The legislature, despite a federal court order not to interfere with the operation of New Orleans schools, is bent on preserving segregation.

Moving quickly to meet the expected demand for private schools, volunteer workers rushed repairs Sunday on a building in suburban Arabi to be used for some of the white students boycotting the two schools.

C. E. Vetter, businessman, said so many workers showed up at the building that some had to be turned away. Registration at the private school was scheduled today and Tuesday. Classes were expected to start Wednesday.

In addition to providing an alternate school system, the legislature approved resolutions designed to prevent banks from handling over school funds to the New Orleans School Board.

The lawmakers earlier tried to oust the board but U.S. Dist Judge J. Skelly Wright overturned that action and numerous segregation measures.

Wright set a hearing for today for the banks to show cause why they should not be enjoined for refusing to honor school board checks.

One of the latest legislative resolutions sets up a new school board with authority to borrow the annual $12 million needed each year until school tax money becomes available. Gov. Jimmie H. Davis signed the resolution Saturday. Two citizens immediately obtained a restraining order, alleging the new attempt to oust the school board is unconstitutional.

Boycott at New Orleans Has Weakened

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The boycott of an integrated elementary school weakened a bit more today with 15 to 17 white pupils turning out for classes.

They showed up at the William Frantz School where one Negro girl is enrolled in the first grade. The previous high white attendance, since the school was integrated by federal court order, was the 40 who went to classes Friday. There are 600 enrolled.

Jeers and taunts from women demonstrators greeted the white children and the Negro girl met a chorus of boos when she arrived.

"You're as black as they are," shouted one woman at the white children.

"Nigger lover," yelled another. At McDonough No. 19, the other school integrated on Nov. 14, only the five Negro girls in the first grade entered the building today. Its enrollment was 500.

However, police patrols at the school were enlarged amid reports that white pupils would break the McDonough boycott today.

Accidents Take Toll in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two small Negro boys died Sunday night in a fire that destroyed their four-room frame home four miles east of El Dorado.

Their deaths brought to 19 the number of persons who died violently during the week ended at midnight Sunday. Nine died in traffic accidents.

Officers said the dead boys are Moody Moody, 5, and Billy Ray Moody, 3. Their mother, Mrs. Odie Lee Moody, escaped from the burning house with two daughters, ages 7 and 5 months.

Mrs. Moody told officers she and the children went to bed last night and left a wood fire burning in the living room. She said she awakened to find the house in flames. The father was away at the time visiting neighbors.

Officers said exact cause of the fire was not determined, but it was thought to have been caused by the wood stove.

The house fire started a grass fire and spread to nearby woods. Scattered oil field installations were threatened before a hard rain extinguished the fire.

Three persons died in traffic accidents over the weekend.

James Marsh, 17, of McCrory, was killed Sunday when his car smashed into a bridge rail near Wynne of Highway 64.

A Nashville youth, James Jines, 18, was killed Saturday night when his car overturned on Highway 19 near Delight.

Bobby Gene Stowers, 27, of West Plains, Mo., died after his car failed to make a curve and played into an American Legion hut at Cammell, near Mountain Home. He died Sunday in surgery in a Harrison hospital. A passenger, Phillip Hamby, 30, of Calico Rock, was hospitalized in Mountain Home. A corner of the hut was knocked off by the car.

Joe Trujillo, about 70, died early Sunday in a fire which destroyed his garage apartment in Little Rock.

A Crawfordsville woman, Mrs. Bertie Lee Gibson, 69, died Saturday in a West Memphis hospital of burns received Friday when her clothing caught fire from a heating stove in her home.

Evans Sanders, 24, of North Little Rock was shot and killed outside a drive-in near North Little Rock early Sunday. Held on an open charge was Morris Faneett, 26, of Jacksonville, the drive-in owner. Sheriff's deputies said Faneett told them Sanders had been involved in several fights at the drive-in and had pulled a knife on him shortly before the shooting.

A. H. Robertson, 64, Dies in a L. R. Hospital

Alvin H. Robertson, aged 64, a longtime resident of Hope, died Saturday in a Veterans Hospital at Little Rock.

He is survived by his wife, a son, J. W. Robertson of Hope; a daughter, Mrs. C. L. Chamberlain of Hot Springs; two sisters, Mrs. E. L. Archer of Hope and Mrs. Eula Cross of Camden.

Services were held at 2 p.m. Monday at the Garrett Memorial Church by the Rev. A. D. Livingston, the Rev. D. O. Silvey and Dr. John McElanahan. Burial by Herndon-Cornelius was in Memory Gardens.

Defense Plan Eliminates 3 Secretaries

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy today got a report recommending sweeping Defense Department reorganization — including elimination of the civilian secretaries of Army, Navy and Air Force.

The goal would be to give the secretary of defense instant control in event of nuclear war.

The report was submitted to Kennedy by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., head of a committee which the president-elect set up to plan streamlining of the vast Pentagon operation for the military space age.

Symington told a news conference after conferring with Kennedy that in his opinion his committee's recommendations would cut present military spending by about 20 per cent or $4 billion annually. Cut he said this money likely would have to be played back for such things as new weapons development and an arms control program.

While the Symington committee would abolish the civilian secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force, those services would be retained as separate entities in the defense establishment.

The plan of Symington, who was secretary of the Air Force in the Truman administration, also would eliminate the undersecretaries and the assistant secretaries—all civilians — of the three services.

In all, 15 civilian offices would be wiped out in the three services. The committee also would abolish seven assistant secretaries of defense, bringing the grand total of offices abolished to 22.

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy deals today with Defense Department reorganization. And he reportedly has decided on his man for secretary of the interior — Rep. Stewart L. Udall, D-Ariz.

Kennedy arranged to fly back to Washington during the afternoon, after a session on revamping the Pentagon, for a busy week of gearing up his new administration.

The president-elect scheduled a mid-morning conference with Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., who heads a committee Kennedy set up to map streamlining of the nation's vast military establishment.

Sources who asked not to be named said Kennedy has decided to name Udall, 40, to the $25,000-a-year interior post in the Cabinet.

These sources said the president-elect's present plan is to announce selection of Udall, a member of the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee, while in New York Wednesday. Udall, it is understood, has been asked to be on hand for the announcement.

Over the weekend, Kennedy picked the second member of his Cabinet—North Carolina Gov. Luther Hodges to be secretary of commerce. The president-elect earlier had named Gov. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut as secretary of health, education and Welfare.

At the White House Tuesday Kennedy will meet for the first time since his election with President Eisenhower. They will discuss the problems of transfer from a Republican administration to a Democratic regime.

Kennedy then will fly to New York for a series of conferences to continue through Wednesday.

A Kennedy aide said the president-elect had made no decision regarding his choice for secretary of state or ambassador to the United Nations.

Chapter XXXI

She opened her eyes thinking it must still be nighttime. The room was a dark gray, and she rolled over on her side to go back to sleep when recollection of the night before swept over her like a menacing flood. She looked at the clock on her bedside table started to see that it was nearly noon.
Vaguely she heard the soft drizzle
of rain on the windowpane.
The door to her room eased open,
and she covered against the pillows in a resurgence of fright, until she recognized her mother's head peeping around the door.
"Mother, what are you doing here?"

"Oh, you're awake," Mrs. Gram-ham said. "Gene called me last night. He said you'd had some sort of scare and thought it best that I stay with you for a day or so until you felt better." Mrs.
Graham opened blinds and spread a bathrobe over the foot of the bed.

Janet went directly to the back door and ran outside in her bath-robe. A few traces of snow still clung to the ground. The rest had melted under the slow steady drizzle of the night before. The footprints were gone. She stared at the ground as though staring might make them return to give evidence, then realized that her mother was gently pulling her out of the rain. "They're gone," Janet said meeting her mother's blank stare. They must have washed away by the time Cliff looked. She allowed herself to be propelled to the breakfast bar and settled there with a cup of coffee.

"Mother, what is wrong with everyone? Don't you believe me?
Doesn't Cliff realize that there was someone in the house last night? Why wouldn't Gene listen to me? What has happened to everyone?"

Her mother talked to her in the tones people reserve for a small child in a tantrum, neither denying the charge nor affirming it.

"What for, Janet?"
"Christmas. There are some last-minute things I need to buy."
Mrs. Graham did not know how to handle this situation. She had, during the previous months, lost
some of her air of assurance.
There was often the hurt look of a child in her eyes, and new lines etched themselves from nose to mouth. "I can do any errands you need, Janet."

"I'll really go crazy cooped up here," Janet said. "I've just two packages to pick up, and I'll come right home. I'm fine this morning, Mother."

"Let me call Marian. I seem to remember that she was thinking of going into White Plains today from something Gene said." Before Janet could protest, Mrs.
Graham had dialed a number and Janet listened. "... wants to go to White Plains. I thought maybe 'Marian'... yes, I see.
Thank you, Gene. As a matter of fact she seems quite well."

Janet did look better than she had in some time.

All the way to White Plains she rehearsed speeches, tried out veiled hints and open references to the night before, practicing her approach to the driver once she had tracked him down. If she met with no success in this quarter, she resolved to flush out Frank
on her return home.

She finally found a parking place some distance from her destination and set out on foot.
She had been so immersed in her own thoughts that she did not realize she was on the threshold of the cleaning establishment, and she halted at its side entrance to look around, to gain a moment's time in which to marshal her thoughts. She was aware that a Sunbeam delivery truck stood at the entrance, that someone loaded bundles and garments onto it.
She glanced up and froze.

This was a flesh and blood figure before her. It was the red-headed driver, tall as she remembered him, an ordinary man on an ordinary job of work. She met his eyes, and he raised his hand courteously to his cap in a respectful, saluting gesture.

"Good afternoon, Mrs. Hamilton."

She stammered some reply, all her carefully laid plans in wild disorder, her one aim to walk past the cleaner's as though she never had meant to stop in. He said he would be seeing her again, and she stumbled on, the blood racing in her head.

The next step was to see Cliff.
She recognized Gerry's old car parked in front of Cliff's apartment and was grateful. Cliff answered her ring, no answering friendliness on his face. Gerry was on her knees inside the apartment, adjusting the holder for the Christmas tree that Billy held upright. The three of them looked at her in polite inquiry.

Billy was the first to recover.
"Hi, Mrs. Hamilton. We're putting up our tree."

Kennedy Set
to Give Post
to Adlai

NEW YORK (AP) — President
elect John F. Kennedy is prepared to offer Adlai E. Stevenson the post of ambassador to the United Nations, press reports said today.

The reports were carried in the Daily News and the New York Times.

The News, in a dispatch from Washington, said "this would be in line with previous reports indicating that Kennedy had firmly decided that someone other than the two-time presidential nominee would be picked for secretary of state."

"Kennedy, it was understood, has expressed an inclination to name Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., for the Cabinet post, but has made no decision."

"If Fulbright is not named, it was understood that the choice would be between Dean Rusk, president of the Rockefeller Foundation and a former assistant secretary of state, and David Bruce, onetime ambassador to West Germany."

"Still reported in the running,
but only as a long shot, is Rep.
Chesler Bowles, D-Conn., who was Kennedy's chief foreign affairs advisor during the campaign."

vertising agency which purchased the aircraft two weeks ago.

Killed with Duffy was Clay J.
Donges, 32, head of Sunderlin Aeronautical Corp., which bought the plane a few months ago and sold it to Duffy. Donges, a vetera-nary, was helping Duffy familiarize himself with the plane.

plane roared down less than 20 feet outside their kitchen window.
The wreckage piled up next door in the yard of Chester J.

two children had gone to visit his mother.

Runkles said "we were sitting at the kitchen table—my wife and the two kids, my brother-in-law and his two kids. We heard this terrific explosion and lunged for the living room."

An investigation was ordered by the Civil Aeronautics Board to determine what caused the five-passenger Beechcraft to go into a dive over the residential area about seven miles east of Cleve-

School Districts to Polls Tuesday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

All 419 Arkansas school districts hold annual elections Tuesday, with a total of $18 million in bonds issues up for approval of voters.

State Education Commissioner Arch Ford said every district will elect at least one board member. The Little Rock district alone has a $1.5 million bond issue pending and the Pulaski County and North Little Rock districts each will place $1 million issues before voters.

Adjustment in millage rates will be necessary to finance most bond issues. Not all districts have bond issues on their ballots.

Reform Must Come From Within the Man

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:

I'm 36 years old and very much in love with a man 39. We were both married but not living with our mates when we first started going together. Then I went back to my husband and he to his wife. Neither reconciliation worked.

By chance we met again after our respective divorces and, for a while, had a wonderful time. Now he drinks and I don't see him for three or four days. He also goes out with other women. I've seen this with my own eyes. Believe me, it hurt hard. Friends tell me to go out with other men. I just want one man—him.

He says he would rather give up his drinking than me and that he wouldn't have gone with other women if it weren't for the drink. He wants me to marry him. What if he goes and gets drunk again — am I to forgive him? Should I try and forget him? — D. B.

Dear D. B.: No woman ever really reformed a man. She may help certainly, but the desire to change must come from within him. Make this clear to your man. Tell him that when and if he proves he has changed, you will then consider marriage, but not before. I personally know of two women who did this very thing. Both are now happily married to the men they loved. Neither man drinks any more.

Dear Helen:

Recently I became a widow and have been left with three children and a small business which I must continue if I am to keep my home.

My oldest girl, 17 and a high school senior, has been worrying me. The boy she wants to go with has been in trouble quite a few times, once for attempted rape. Another time he was sent away to reform school.

Before my husband died, I left most of our daughter's correction to him. Now I am sick and can't supervise what's going on. I ask her not to go with this boy or ride in his car, but she lets him drive her home from school against my wishes. How can I convince her she will ruin her reputation? — Mrs. L. K.

Dear Mrs. L. K.: She will not ruin her reputation but her life if she lets herself care for a boy who has the rough and rocky happiness. But now "NO!" And could never in her wildest moments conceive of the seamy, sordid happenings, talk and characters in such a place. Whatever she may think of the boy, the more is bound to rub off on him and eventually her. She would figuratively speaking, feel string up by her thumbs if she has any sensitivity or appreciation of right and wrong. How about asking the boy's probation officer to tell her something of this life and its implications?

Were she older and more experienced and she and the boy hopelessly in love, I might say there would be a faint hope of reform and a chance of ultimate happiness. At now "NO!" And

I print that in capital letters. Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine, c/o sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Alcoholism."

Sled Accident Fatal to Youth

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP) - A boy was killed Sunday when his sled hit into the rear of another sled on his grandfather's farm near here. Authorities said a runner on the front sled fatally pierced the throat of Daniel J. Lenio, 12, of nearby Stoytown. The youngster's sled crashed into the back of another boy's sled which had slowed down after hitting some melted snow. 4-15-11

The National Football League championship game will match Philadelphia's streaking Eagles against Baltimore or Green Bay or San Francisco or Chicago or Detroit.

That was the situation today, with only two weeks left in the regular season.

The Eagles clinched their first Eastern Conference title since 1949 by whipping the St. Louis Cardinals 20-6 Sunday for their ninth consecutive triumph.

The Baltimore Colts, seeking to gain a playoff berth for an unprecedented third consecutive time, were beaten by the Detroit Lions 20-15 when Earl Morrall connected with Jim Gibbons for a 65-yard touchdown pass on the last play of the game.

The loss dropped Baltimore into a three-way tie for first place in the Western Division with Green Bay and San Francisco, all with 64 records, while Chicago (5-4-1) and Detroit (5-5) remained solidly in contention.

The Packers, getting a 23-point performance from Paul Hornung that gave him 152 for the campaign and broke Don Hutson's 18-year-old one-season scoring record, walloped the Bears 41-13. The 49ers moved into position by blasting Los Angeles 23-7 before a crowd of 77,254.

The Cleveland Browns grabbed the runner-up spot in the East with a 27-16 victory over Washington while the Dallas Cowboys won the New York Giants 31-31.

Norm Van Brocklin passed for two touchdowns and Bobby Watson kicked a pair of field goals against the Eagles (0-1). Van Brocklin hit Pete Retzlaff with a 22-yarder, then pitched a 25-yarder to Tom McDonald after the Cards (5-5-1) had scored on Mal Hammack's two-yard plunge in the third period.

The Colts scored what appeared to be the winning touchdown with 14 seconds left when Johnny Unitas, who had previously unleashed an 80-yard TD drive to Lenny Moore, fired a 34-yard scoring aerial to the fleet halfback for a 15-13 lead. But Morrall, on the bench for the first three periods, completed a 17-point fourth-quarter surge for Detroit by whipping the clincher to Gibbons following the kickoff.

Harris on Look All-American

NEW YORK (AP)—University of Arkansas center Wayne Harris is one of 22 men named by the Football Writers Association of America to a Look Magazine all-star team.

Harris, from El Dorado, Ark., was named to the third unit center spot on the Associated Press All-American team. He received a first team guard position on the writers' all-star team.

B. J. Holub of Texas Tech and Roy McKasson of Washington were picked at center by the seven-man committee.

Tom Brown, Minnesota's mighty guard, got the Outland Award given annually to the outstanding guard or tackle.

Bobcats Lose Saturday to Hall High

By Vince Foster
Hope Star Sports Writer

The Hope Bobcats were outscored and outplayed Saturday night as the Hall High Warriors, a Big 9 team of Little Rock, dropped them 46-35. The local B-team were also scraped 32-20.

The Cats led 13-11 at the end of the first period, but couldn't collect but 10 points to 26 by Hall in the second and third quarters. Then in the final period Churchwell with 6 free throws and a field goal each from Arnett Calhoun and Robinson narrowed the Warriors' lead but not enough to pull the game out of the bag.

As Coach Gene Hooks of Hall said, "They (Hope) have a good team. They've got a lot of football players on it, but once they get the football out of them, they will be a tough team to beat." The football players Hooks was to their overwhelming triumph against the Bears by scoring twice on a 10-yard run and a 17-yard pass from Bart Starr, kicking two field goals and five conversions while eclipsing the NFL scoring record set by Green Bay's Hutson in 1942. Chicago's touchdowns came on a 19-yard Ed Brown to Willie Dewell pass and a 20-yard toss from Zeke Bratkowski to Jim Dooley.

The 49ers, using the double wing offense that proved effective in last week's triumph over Baltimore, built a commanding 10-0 halftime lead over Los Angeles (3-6-1) on a 10-yard scoring jaunt by C. R. Roberts and the first of three field goals by Tommy Davis. A 65-yard TD strike from John Brodie to Clyde Conner rounded out San Francisco's scoring before the Rams rallied on Frank Ryan's two-yard sneak.

Milt Plum had his first pass intercepted on his 10th aerial this season, but his three touchdown flips brought the Browns (8-3-1) from behind twice against the cellar-dwelling Redskins (1-7-2). Eddie Lee Barron's nine yard touchdown toss to Bill Howton in the final period gave the Cowboys their tie with the Giants (5-3-2) after L. G. Dupre scored three TDs, two on LeBaron passes, to keep Dallas within range.

Porkers Down Missouri in Opening Game

FAVETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas' basketball Razorbacks opened their season on a bright note Saturday night in an 84-75 victory over Missouri. But Tuesday night they get a tougher opponent in Oklahoma State.

Those are the first pair of stout opponents the Hogs will face in an attempt to get ready for the Southwest Conference season, which opens for them Jan. 4 against Texas.

The Oklahoma State game is set for Stillwater, Okla. The Hogs come home for a Thursday night game with North Texas State.

Arkansas got 11 points or more from four players in the Missouri game. And sophomore flaut Tommy Boyer proved he'll be able to carry a varsity load.

Jerry Carlton led scoring with 21 points. Ronnie Garner hit 12 and Clyde Rhoden and Pat Foster netted 11 each. Boyer scored eight points.

The Hogs will have to maintain this type of balance if they expect to be in the thick of the Southwest Conference fight. Their main drawback is lack of height, but they still are rated among the leaders.

Spring Hill Wins 2 Over Guernsey

Friday night Spring Hill and Guernsey tied up in a tripleheader and Spring Hill won two of the matches.

Guernsey's Junior girls, led by Rosenbaum with 17, downed Spring Hill's girls 33 to 16.

Spring Hill Senior girls downed the Guernsey girls 68 to 51 with Bristow tossing in 24 for the losers and Spring Hill's Galloway hooping a fabulous 51 points for the winners.

Spring Hill Senior boys had little trouble downing Guernsey 68 to 23. Yocom made 14 for the winners and Stephens 13 for the losers.

referring to are Arnett, Churchwell, Roberts, Walters and Duke. Dudley Taylor with his 7 deadly jump shots and two free throws was the top scorer in the contest with 16 points. Curtis Churchwell and Glen Calhoun were leading Cat scorers with 9 each. Other Bobcat scorers were Robinson, 6, Fry and Arnett with 4 each and Duke with 3.

The B team had rebounding difficulties and spent most of the game on defense. They were unaccustomed to the zone defense and just couldn't find the basket. They scored 4 points in the 2nd and 4th periods with 6 in the 1st and 3rd periods. Paul Becton was high man for Hall and Earl Ray Murphy was tops for Hope with 6 points. Other Hope scorers were Compton with 5, Porterfield and Horton with 3 each, Baber with 2 and Purdie 1.

"The boys played a good game," Coach Mitchell said. "They rebounded and played better defense than I expected, but they just had a cold shooting night. Also, Hall didn't have any football players on their team, and so had a head start on us, since they have practiced longer. I know we will improve and be ready next week," he continued.

Tuesday the Sr. and Jr. boys travel to Nashville and then the Sr. girls and boys play Prescott there Friday. Thursday the Sr. girls and "B" team play at Blevins.
